IMPORTANT SUGGESTION-WAR OR NO WAR.-he last National Intelligencer has the following

IMPORTANT SUGGESTION—WAR OR NO WAR.—
The last National Intelligencer has the following suggestion:—
On the subject of the hostities which have actually commenced on the Rio Grande, let us suppose a case which would show the declaration of war against Mexico to be as premature as it has been precipitate. In the anarchy which prevails in Mexico, where (the forms of the constitution having become as much of a farce as they are in danger of becoming among ourselves,) the Presidency becomes the prize of the most enterprising and successful soldiers why may not Arista, universally reputed as an ambitious as well as accomplished General, taking advantage of his rank and his influence over officers subordinate to him, have seized this occasion, with out orders from his government, to make a dash at our army, which, if he do no more than he has already done—but, still more, if he force it to retire from its present position, however short a distance—by the eclat which such an exploit will give him, and his popularity withhearmy, march to Mexico, drive out the President of the day, and seat himself in his stead? After merely stating this problem for the reader's consideration, we will add, in seriousness, that we really have some doubt whether the crossing of the Rio Grande by the Mexican forces has been authorized at all by the government of Mexico, and whether it will not be promptly rebuked and disavowed by it. In this hypothesis, what would become of the solemn assertion, by law, that "by the act of the Republic of Mexico, a state of war exists between that Government and the United States?"

We desire to express our thanks to Mr. wes, ferry-master, Jersey City, for aiding us in ting the news which we published in yestery's Extra Herald, as quickly as possible, to our

Had credits been much inflated, and had speculation in any of our staple products been carried to any extent, the effect of the war accounts from the South would have been most disastrous. There would have been such a panic as we have never before experienced, and we have no doubt an immediate suspension of specie payments would have been the only alternative.

Prices for every thing were, on the contrary, very much reduced. Provisions, breadstuffs, cotton, and all our staples, ruled very low, and fancy stocks, particularbut staples, ruled very low, and lancy stocks, particularly, were held at the lowest points. Stocks which a year ago were selling at eighty and ninety per cent, are now held at forty and fifty, and a similar contraction in all other things exists. We were not, therefore, unprepared for the blast which has swept through the country, and It is well for us that we saw the approaching storm. Its effect will consequently be less injurious, and we shall be better able to meet the demand upon us, necessary to ensure a speedy and successful termination of the dif-ficulties with which we are at present surrounded.

The anxiety for further intelligence from the scene of strife is most intenso. The suspense under which we labor is worse than the most unfavorable reality, and un-til something more definite and decided than we have yet received comes to hand, there must be a partial suspersion of business. The absence of accounts leads every one into the most alarming anticipations, and the dangers and difficulties are magnified, and daily increase in strength. There are many who do not feel disposed to believe one half of what has been received from the in strength. There are many who do not lead disposed to believe one half of what has been received from the seat of war, and continue their operations perfectly indifferent to the reports in circulation, and totally independent of the general opinion. If their anticipations prove correct they will reap a rich harvest, and their confidence will give them fortunes, while a reverse now will not be attended with results so disnatrous as experienced when the news from the Rio Grande first came to hand. Should the next decided accounts be favorable, or even that received be partially confirmed, the stock manket would be so greatly relieved that prices would avance with the greatest rapidity; while, on the other hand, we do not anticipate any very bad effect upon prices of many stocks, upon the receipt of bad news. The market is now in a position to feel the influence of favorable advices from any quarter, without being much effected by any thing of an unfavorable character.

We annex our usual table of comparative quotations for the past week. Compared with prices current last Saturday, there has been a falling off of several per cent, but since Monday there has been an improvement in the rates:—

We are happy to learn that the said receivers, with seventeen other merchants and capitalists, procured from the Legislature, one year ago, a renewal, or rather a new charter, under the name and style of the "Union Mutual Insurance Company," with a cash pital of 100, 000 dollars, for the business of fire, marine, transporta-tion, and navigation insurance; the profits to be divided between the stockholders, and those doing business with the institution.

The books of subscription to the capital stock will be opened in a few days, and the Commissioners are disposed to give the shareholders of the old Union Insurance Company a preference for one half of the cash capital. The fire and inland business only, will be commenced on at present. The marine, probably, will be added when the Oregon and Mexican difficulties are settled. The receipts of the Reading Railroad Company for the past month have been unusually large, and the quantity of coal transported on this road from the mines to the seaboard, this season, is about double that for the corresponding period last year. Within the past month there has been a decrease in every department—the loans have fallen off $93,413the specie, $59,150-circulation, $210,108-and the deposits, $20,589. These variations are a very trifling per cent of the aggregate movement, and are such as may be expected in the best regulated banks. From the report of the Chairman of the Board of Pub-

From the report of the Chairman of the Board of Public Works, which has just come to hand, it appears that the whole amount appropriated for the construction of the Welland Canal was £500,000 Halliax currency—the amount expended up to the 31st March, £672,972, and by the detailed estimate, £173,386 is still required, of which the sum of £121,544 is needed for the service of 1845. The Board, it appears, had been induced to recommend the adoption of the Lake Erie level in the enlargement of the locks, upon consideration of the very great advantages to be had therefrom, and from being led to believe that these improvements could be effected within the amount of the appropriation, in which they have been disappointed by the miscalculations of the resident Engineer. A considerable enlargement of the trunk of the canal, and alteration in the curves, has been rendered necessary for the passage of a larger class of vessels. Another steamboat lock has been constructed below $E$ Catharines, by which the advantages of a port on the lake are afforded to that town, and the portion of the Grand River navigation connected with the Welland Canal, greatly improved. The work, however, notwithstanding the improved. The work, however, notwithstanding the large amount expended, is not executed in that substantial manner anticipated, although it affords an uninterrupted navigation for the full sized vessels for which its

THE ATLANTIC WHITE LEADCOMPANY having completed their Works, are now ready to execute orders for pure White Lead, both Dry and Ground in Oil, to almost any extent that may be wanted. The Company have spared no expense in the erection of the Works which would tead, in the least degree, to the improvement of the Lead, having availed. hemselves of every modern improvement for that purpose.

in the least degree, to the improvement of the Lead, having availed, hemselves of every modem improvement for that Being well aware, from our long familiarity with the different leads sold in our market, that by far the greater proportion sold as such has been, and still is greatly adulerated with Barytes, an article of mineral production, much heavier than White Lead, and in itself possessing no virtue of any pigment whatever, it being, when mixed with oil, almost transparent, and in fact, having nothing but its specific weight to recommend it, the Trustees of the Atlantic White Lead Company have passed, unanimously, the following resolution, viz:—

"Resolved, That in view of manufacturing only a prime article, the Atlantic White Lead Company will make but one quality of White Lead, both Dry and Ground in Oil; that to be a strictly pure, gennine article, and perfectly free from any adulteration whatever, which the Company will warrant as such to all who may purchase their Lead."

Purchasers, therefore, may be well assured that every dependence may be placed in the purity of every pound of White Leadmanufactured and sold by the Company, which pureness will not only tend to the greater durability of the Paint, but will be found much more economical in its use, even in the most common description of painting, owing to the body or covering quality it possesses, thereby giving a far better finish with two coats, than the adulterated White Paint would with three, of which every painter will bear with reas.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS

TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

House of Representatives.

Wassington, May 16, 1846.
The Ray S. Turtin delivered the following prayer:
Great God! in closing the labors of this eventful week, we look to Thee for Thy blessing. So far as it shall be found in accordance with Thy will, and the best interests of the nation, we beseech Thee to sanction with Thy favor what has been done by the constituted authorities of the nation. Mercifully interpose to abridge the horrors of the war in which we are now involved, and grant that returning peace, with her balmy influences, may soon heal the wounds which have been thus inflicted. Whilst this great, powerful and prosperous aution is careful to exact nothing but what is right, be pleased to incline the power with which we are now in unhappy collision, to acquiesce in such measures as shall sorre to secure the speedy, amicable, and honorable adjustment of all existing difficulties. We renewedly implore Thy blessing upon our army, and fervently beseech Thee to extend over it the broad shield of Thy heavenly protection. Bless the President—bless the Senate—bless the House of Representatives—and bless all the constituted authorities of the land! Qualify them abundantly for the right discharge of every incumbent duty—obliterate our sins from the book of Thy remembrance—and merofully accept us, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen:

A FANDING RULE—A RULE THAT CAN'T STAND.

Mr. Daniel, of North Carolina, asked leave to submit a resolution, that the following be one of the standing rules of the House, viz:—

Mr. Haralson.—Let's dispose of the finance, first.

Mr. King.—Well.

Mr. Daniel.—I wish to say that I shall persevere in bringing my resolution before the House. ["Oh, no!"]

The Clerk read the message from the Senate, that they had disagreed to the amendment of the House to the bill providing that all the officers of the regiment shall be selected from the regular line of the army.

Mr. Haralson.—As it is desirable that this bill should be disposed of as apsedily as possible, I move that the House receded from their amendment, and demand the previous question.

The motion was agreed to, and by a vote of yeas 96, nays 69, the House receded.

To clench the nail, Mr. Haralson moved a re-consideration of the vote, and the question was decided in the negative.

Mr. King, of Georgia, submitted a resolution, which was adopted, calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish the House with a statement showing the number of officers employed in the revenue service, the tonnage and armament of the vessels, the number of mea, grade of pay, and the annual cost of this branch of service.

The House is now dividing.

ENTERTAINMENT TO SATAGE.

The bill to adjust the claims of Commodore Thomas Ap Catesby Jones, on principles of justice, was taken up. Mr. Bavix explained the ground of the bill. Commodore Jones was sent to the South Sea Islands to claim Indemnity from the Islanders for injury done to our citizens, principally engaged in the whale business. The claim amounted to $500,000. When Commodore Jones went there he found that he could treat with them successfully only by giving entertainments on board his his ships. He completed his mission. His expenses exceeded his pay some $1500; he is willing, however, to give up his pay. All that he asks is to refund him the money he is actually out of pocket. Every Secretary of the Navy, since the transaction, had approved of the claim; the President, in an annual message, spoke of his services in commendation, and the Committee on Foreign Affairs had reported in his favor during three successive Congresses.

Mr. RATHBUN submitted an amendment, to pay a specific amount—$1,501 78.

Mr. Sawyer was satisfied that no portion of the claim should be allowed; there was nothing in the report accompanying the bill which would justify it. There were many things connected with the history of Commodore Jones, which he did not like to express. This claim had been before Congress a number of years.

Mr. Bayly, as the gentleman seemed to contradict his statement, read from a letter of Mr. Dickerson, formerly Secretary of the Navy, urging Commodore Jones to prosecute his claims before Congress.

Mr. Sawyer asked the committee to produce evidence or argument, to show that the claim ought to be allowed.

The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. Sawyer moved to lay saide the bill, to be reported to the House, with a recommendation that it do met peas. The question was taken, and decided in the negative. A voice, ourside First and.
